State Songs to Highlight Assembly

State Show" presented by singing and dancing groups of the university will begin Friday 10 a.m. in the Fieldhouse. Carolyn Shurtliff, a freshman, is choreographer of the program. She shows open to the tune of "Doodle Dandy" and needs through a number of songs including those of Idaho, Utah, New Mexico, and Texas. The finale will join for the song, "This is My Country."

The theme is presented wholly song and dance as there is no action involved. A featured attraction will be a line of boys dancing to the tune of "Chicago."

During the summer quarter a "State Show" presented to the students Friday the show will be in its entirety.

U. S. Economy Ahead of Russia Rep. Bolling Assures Students

by Ray A. Geigle
University Political Writer

"Today our economy is two and one half times as large as that of Russia," was one of the comments presented to the Brigham Young University student body at Wednesday's forum assembly by Democratic Congressman Richard Bolling.

Our economy has only grown about 2 per cent per year under the present Republican administration in comparison to Russia which is between 7 and 10 per cent.

Russia is ahead of the United States in the development of missiles and armaments, Bolling told the group. He explained that Russia is ahead of us because they can take a development from the planning tables to the battlefield in five years whereas it takes the U. S. about ten years.

Bolling challenged the group to look around the world and see if the U. S. has gained any more prestige during the last six years.

"The scene is one of deterioration everywhere," was his comment on that situation. Bolling rapped the Republicans with such comments as "The Republican Party reached under a bed to reach its present labor policy."

"We are using old ideas today, when we should be using tomorrow's ideas," was his comment on the present economic outlook of the Republican Party.

Queen Voting Ruls Today

by Charlotte Sandberg
Daily Universe Writer

A Homecoming Queen and two attendants are being elected today.

Twenty-eight girls were nominated for queen and judges eliminated candidates on the basis of appearance, personality, poise, and intelligence until six finalists were left.

Pictures of the six are on display at each of the polling places. They are in McKay Building, Smith Family Living Center, Eyring Science Center, and the bookstore of the Student Service Center.

The polls will be open from 9 a.m. to 3:30 p.m. Large pictures of the candidates are displayed in the Eyring Science Center.

Faye Baker is a senior office management major from Glendora, Calif. She is being sponsored by the Tokalon social unit.

Lorna Cobia is a junior business education major from Moses Lake, Wash. Lorna is sponsored by the Washington Club and Shumway Kiyel religious unit.

Karen Dixon is a senior elementary education major from Provo. She is being sponsored by the University's Women's Chorus.

Carolyn Juárez is a senior speech major from Phoenix, Ariz. Carolyn's sponsor is the Val Hymn social unit.

Marchene Nielsen is a senior elementary education major from Van Nuys, Calif. She is sponsored by the Kappa Delta social unit.

Lore Sennhauser is a junior commercial art major from Salt Lake City. Lore's sponsor is the Brigadier social unit.

The Homecoming committee has announced that one of the candidates has an unknown campaign illegally. She was given the wrong information on campaign techniques by the committee.

The point of procedure has been clarified by the elections committee and her campaign is now being conducted in accordance with election rules, according to Max Pitcher, elections chairman.

BYU to Produce TV Art Classes

Brigham Young University students and anyone else interested will have a chance to pick up three hours of University credit through a televised Art Appreciation course.

The course will be presented each Saturday from Nov. 8 until January from 2 to 3:30 p.m. It will be televised over Provo's new television station, KLCN, channel 11, in both color and black and white.

Conen Matthews of the BYU art department will instruct the TV course. It is being given in cooperation with the College of Fine Arts.

Dean Harold G. Clark, BYU adult education and extension services, says that all who desire to register for this BYU television course should do so before the first viewing. They will be sent outlines, booklets, and other material for the course. Those interested in auditing the class should also register and get the materials.

UN Association Plans Reception

Many foreign students at Brigham Young University will be honored by the Utah Association for United Nations on Oct. 24, United Nations Day.

All foreign exchange students and all foreign students attending school on a scholarship are eligible to attend the Friday evening event, according to Mrs. James Malloch, committee member of the U.A.N.

From 7 to 8 p.m. the students will be honored at a reception in the Hotel Utah. At 8:30 p.m. each student will be the guest of the association at the opening ceremony of the Utah Symphony in the Tabernacle.

Mrs. Malloch said that foreign students who have not received written invitations are invited also.

Dean Arliff Ball, BYU foreign student adviser, will be able to answer questions about the evening's program. Mrs. Malloch added.

ales Planning Christmas Style Fashion Show

on campus will have a chance to see the latest in men's fashions as well as give hints to girls for Christmas presents.

A fashion show for men presented by the Associated Students will be given approximately $500 worth of clothing is being given as door prizes during the show. Prizes are being donated by downtown merchants in Provo and Salt Lake.

The show will begin at 7 p.m. in the Smith Auditorium. There is no admission charge.

Program for the evening will feature a talent show consisting of campus talent with the singing of the fashions. Arrangements for the evening are made by the Associated Students and Hoover's Sing Store.

Following the fashion show, Central Dance Committee is sponsoring a student body dance. Ladies will go to the Social Hall stages will dance in the House.

Admission to the dance is 30 cents a person at the Fieldhouse 70 cents a couple at the Social Hall. Dancing will begin at 10 p.m.

Seaton Speaks to Republicans; Blasts Demo Spending Policy

"Say to yourself, what have I done for my candidates instead of what my candidates do for me," Secretary of Interior Fred A. Seaton said Wednesday to Young Republicans of Brigham Young University.

He advised students consider carefully all candidates and is-gues, before voting, what said, "You can be proud of what the Republicans from Utah have been doing in Washington. The rest of the country is proud of them."

Secretary Seaton talked to students about what he thinks are the most important issues in United States: America's position in the conquest of outer space, America's place in world peace and the recent economic recession.

United States is ahead of Russia in the race of missiles and rockets since the Pioneer Rocket and X-15 have been successful, he said.

"Of the last eight presidents of the United States five have been Republican and three Democrats. Three wars have started while Democrats were in office and none have started while Republicans were in office during this time," the Secretary pointed out.

In backing up statements the interior head said, "Records show that in the last five years the Democrats were controlling the White House, for every three cents spent on rockets, 97 cents was for support of peanuts."

"Ninety-nine per cent of all United States money invested in guided missiles, has been spent since January of 1953 when a Republican president moved into the White House."

NewBorrowing Policy Adopted

A new policy for borrowing materials from Provo merchants for Brigham Young University has been adopted by the student public relations under the direction of Gary Lloyd.

A complete listing of materials that may be obtained from Provo townpeople is available in the Public Relations Dept. located in the East end of the basement of Clark Student Service Center.

In order to obtain any of these materials, students must have a card signed by a member of the public relations department, Lloyd said. Provo merchants have been asked to turn down requests which don't come through the campus office.

Deadlines Posted For Scholarships

Fulbright and Rhodes scholarships for graduate study are available to Brigham Young University juniors and seniors, according to Edward Hart, associate professor of English. Deadline for application is Nov. 1.

Scholarships are based on ambition, achievement and academic standing, according to Hart. The Rhodes scholarships are limited to single men under the age of 35, he said.

Interested applicants should contact Hart in 239 McKay as soon as possible.

Male Fashions Pass in Review: Men's Duds Offered As Prizes

by Judene Wixon
Daily Universe Society Editor

Give-away programs in government are one thing, but J. Brecken Lee would go along with the kind we're having on campus Friday night.

modern day guy is dressed for best, he's wearing a sharp combination of conservative lines with a touch of the devil-may-care that so typifies the man of today.

That's exactly what the men's fashion show is turning out to be, according to members of the planning committee. Over 500 worth of men's clothing will be given away as door prizes to lucky ones who attend the show at 7 p.m. in the Smith Auditorium.

Christmas Thoughts

Just in time for Christmas shopping, gals are urged to attend and get an inside idea of what the men go for in clothes. Here's hoping the fellows there will cooperate by giving with the girl's and she in the right places so we know what will go over big with the special guy.

Think it's wonderful to start making something of the dress for fellows for a change. Women's fashions aren't changing enough lately to make fashion shows very interesting. They seem to get consistently worse and draw more laughs than applause.

Men Are Different

Male attire, on the other hand, is becoming more and more comfortable and attractive. No high, stiff collars and suits cut to make men look anything but masculine.

Color has invaded the man's world, too. Designers are no longer afraid to put a splash of red, yellow or green in the weave of a black fabric. Socks and ties have taken an obvious turn for the brighter—sometimes too obvious.

Don't mean to sound like men are going wild over fantastic arrays of color, either. When a

Frosh Opens Campaign With State Ramblers

The Gatos will be more than ready Friday when they "hally-ho" off to Logan for their season kickoff engagement with the Utah State frosh team.

Guided by a host of head coaches, the freshmen squad has been practicing for almost four weeks preparing for the opening encounter.

Coaches Tom Verbanatz and Jay Van Vyn have been putting the "green" green-shirted gridders through their paces in attempt to corral a strong first team from a fairly "thin" squad.

Gato Hoopsters Begin Practice For Loop Wars

Fifty-four willing frosh turned out to greet Coach Bob Bunker last week at the opening of Freshman basketball practice.

Competition should prove to be keen as candidates battle for positions on the squad. By January 1 when conference rules allow the curtain to come up on game competition, the squad will be narrowed down to 12 survivors.

The average height of this year's Gatos should be well over 6 feet with one played, Bob Ingalls of Calgary, Alberta, Canada, measuring in at 6'10".

When the regular season gets underway the "Kildens" will be seen in a 12 game schedule against several junior colleges as well as the freshmen teams of most of the Utah colleges.

Represented in this year's squad are candidates from 13 states and the countries of Canada, Mexico, Finland and Iran.

A preview of what is in store for varsity basketball may be seen in the performances of the frosh squad. With impressive high school records many of the freshmen need only a year of development under college conditions to blossom into star performers.

The Gatos will be out to defend their Utah Championship crown which they guarded successfully last season by trouncing a weak University of Utah squad 42-0. Coach Max Tolbert and his young Gats whipped Utah State last year, 45-7.

Boys to watch this year include Cal Packrell, a giant guard from San Diego. Ears hear that Cal is more than ready for varsity duty. Paul Allen, a slashing halfback from Pleasant Grove, who they call "the horse," is worth watching with his slambang style of totin' the ball.

A good-looking fullback called Lynn Stewart, Payson High graduate, thrilled many Cougar Stadium crowds on his touchdown rams from fullback slot in '57. Paul Garcia, a right-half from Los Angeles, is a shifty runner who brings many prop honors into the game. Don Peterson, Burley, Idaho, is an end who boasts the biggest frame for any Kitten line-flanker in three years.

Other performers to watch include guard Steve Sullivan, and Milton Johnson, guard Don "Chunk" McCracken, center Steve Dangerfield, and halfback Lyman Taylor.

Cougars Enter Cross Country

The annual intermountain AAU cross-country run will take place 11 a.m. Saturday in Salt Lake City with Brigham Young University, Utah State University, University of Utah, and Idaho State College competing in the event.

The teams, composed of five men and two alternates, will run a 1¼ mile race around Liberty Park. The winner will be the team collecting the least number of points, as one point will be given for the winner, two for the runner up, and so on.

Representing BYU in the over-and-test will be Gary Griffith, Dean Lundell, Matti Rary, Gary Elison, and Wilber Greenhalgh.

Man, Bear Tangle; Bruin Gets Cub, Mouthful of Glass

CODY, Wyo. — (UPI) — A mother bear spotted bunting guide Roy Glasgow, 66, springing on one of her cubs with field glasses Monday.

A scuffle ensued. The mother bear ended up with a mouth full of glass, and Glasgows with a pair of lensless field glasses.

Glasgow was watching the cub while serving as a guide for a party in the Southfork country near Cody, when the mother bear jumped from some bushes and charged him with her mouth open.

They wrestled for a few minutes before the mother bruin left to catch her wandering cub.
